Eagle Mountain Garden Railroad

Gary started his garden railway in 1992 after buying his first Garden Railway magazine.

It was decided that the design of the railroad would be educational and aesthetic and that the theme of the railroad would be the early diverse events that took place in Arizona between the late 1800's and the mid 1900's. As you walk through the garden, look closely and you will see miniature scenes that depict these early events. The garden is divided into two distinctive areas: mountains and desert. The layout has grown in four phases: first was the town area and 50 feet of track. Next came the logging area with waterfall and ponds the third phase was the desert mining area. The fourth phase is the raised track as you enter the train yard and was designed exclusively to extend the total footage of running track. The garden incorporates a variety of native with other colorful plants that have been chosen for their resistance to desert animals. We have enjoyed a project that brings two hobbies together, gardening and model railroading.

MONTHLY SOCIAL LUNCHEON

Now that the weather has cooled (after we found out one hot August day that they had swamp cooling instead of AC) let's return to The Red Garter Saloon for our monthly luncheon. The date is November 10th. Hopefully this midtown location will attract the far out east members. The address is 3143 E Speedway. That is on the north side of Speedway, a couple doors east of Country Club. Meet at 11:30. Hope to see you then. If you have any questions call Chuck Cook at 977-7673.

HOW ABOUT A ROAD TRIP

How about a trip to Phoenix for some train fun on the Saturday of Thanksgiving weekend (11-28-09). Here's what I have in mind. We do some carpools up to Mesa for their swap meet and arrive about opening time. We stay there for 2-3 hours and then drive to Tempe to board their light rail system and go downtown to TGI Fridays at Chase Field for some late lunch. We take the train back and optionally we could stop at Arizona Trains in Mesa if you want to be wowed by all the good things you can do with MTH equipment. Call Chuck Cook at 797-1066 by November 15th and let me know your interest.

EDUCATION EVENT

Well, I did it! Not easy but I did it! What you may ask? I developed a Power Point presentation on Garden Railways for adults!! First of all, I should say we did it, along with Gary, Jim Miller, Tony Blackwell, (Barry Blackwell's son) and Ellen Stoesser a 75 slide presentation was put together. The program is divided into four sections:

1. General information - depending on the group, it covers a brief history of TGRS, history of Garden Railways and history of train transportation in general.
2. Trains and Rolling stock - shows different locomotives and rolling stock, also explains the different methods of movement from wind-up, steam locomotives, track power to battery power. Also a little bit about scale or gauge.

3. Modeling - structures and figures, slides show bought structures, kits, bashed kits to handmade buildings from wood, styrofoam, concrete boards, etc. Figures, bought or handmade.
4. Gardens and Layouts - tried to show water features, towns, small layouts, large layouts, indoor layouts such as those overhead, beautiful tressels, etc. I will continue to work on and improve the presentation as we go forward. Future projects include a presentation for school age children.

The first presentation was on Monday, October 5th at the Tucson Racquet Club for the T-bird club. There were about 25 members and many had been to our Rails in the Garden event. I am looking forward to presenting this Power Point program to any group or organization interested in learning more about Garden Railroads.

Ted & Valerie Golembiewski

We recently discovered the Pantano River Park, adjacent to Lowe's at Kolb & Speedway.

To our delight, they have train structures for kids (and some adults!) to play on.

It is a quiet, undiscovered place, so far, and really nice to visit. In addition to the trains, there are mosaics and tiles from several schools and local Tucson groups that are beautiful and imaginative. Hope the members have a chance to visit sometime.

Obituaries

Frank Trunzo

On October 20th, Frank Trunzo passed away. While not a charter member, Frank was a member of long standing, and one who always had a smile and a good railroad story to tell. He came by his railroad information naturally, his Father having been a Pennsylvania RR man. Frank will be widely missed, and we want Bobbe to know that our sympathy is with her, and any help or support we can provide, either as a club or individually, will be provided as requested.

Dolly Duda

Joe Duda's wife, Dolly, died quite suddenly early Saturday morning, October 24th. Dolly cheerfully worked with anyone who needed it, and was a mainstay at Rails In The Garden tours. She was a wonderful and happy person, and her presence will be missed by all of us. We extend our sympathies to Joe and their children and grandchildren, and want them to know that we stand ready to help in any way we can.
