SOCIAL LUNCHEON

On Wednesday, September 9th 18 TGRS members arrived at the Rincon Mountain Grill at Forty Niner. This represented the largest group that has attended any of the TGRS luncheons.

Known to the locals as "49ers", the Forty Niner Country Club Estates and Golf Course is located in the green rolling desert of northeast Tucson. The neighborhood is nestled between the base of the Catalina and Rincon Mountains and bordered by the Tanque Verde Wash to the south. This area of Tucson features gorgeous mountain views and is known for the shady mesquite tree bosques. With panoramic views of the Catalina and Rincon Mountains, diners can savor a menu featuring fresh, locally-sourced ingredients. The talented culinary team crafts delicious meals, perfect for a casual lunch after a game or a celebratory dinner with family and friends.

Our table was set in a semi-private area of the room. With 18 hungry mouths to feed, Sam, our waitress, was busy from the moment we stepped into the restaurant. Drinks were ordered and delivered. The process of taking orders took a while but Sam was helpful and knowledgeable about the extensive menu (click here to read it). Conversations were lively as we anticipated a great meal. Sam brought out several trays loaded with our orders and accurately placed them in front of the correct member. I think we ordered something from just about every section of their menu except for pizza. All of the food was impressive and everyone was very satisfied with their choice. The atmosphere, the service, the employees, and the food all combined to make an enjoyable lunch.
